FIREWARDS' REPORT

The following fires are recorded for the year 1917-8:

Damage was slight except to the Red Garage and its contents, $2,000, insured, and to William Naramore's blacksmith shop and contents, about $2,000, which was a total loss.

Feb. 20, 1917, Red Garage.
June 12, Forest fire near Oscar Yon's residence.
Aug. 4, Naramore's blacksmith shop and contents.
Oct. 24, chimney fire, Walter Holman's residence.
Dec. 29, chimney fire, Haskell block.
Jan. 12, 1918, chimney fire at Pierce's.
Jan. 12, chimney fire at Levi Sons' residence.

The regular equipment of Eagle Engine Company and Chemical Engine Company remains practically the same as last year and the additional supplies for the necessary upkeep of the department can be provided by the Board of Firewards without a special appropriation.

During the past year the firewards have purchased a set of runners for Chemical Engine No. 1, and have purchased three extension ladders for Eagle Engine Company.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARENCE M. DAMON, Chief.
LEROY E. GILSON, Clerk.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Fitzwilliam:—

I submit to you herewith my second annual report as Superintendent of Schools, this being the eighteenth under the plan of district supervision. As you are probably aware this is the oldest district in point of continuous supervision in the state.

My comments will consist of a brief survey of conditions during the school year 1916-1917, an outline of the work thus far this year, a few comments on various minor matters and especially recommendations regarding the policy of the immediate future in view of the unusual conditions with which we are confronted.

Following this report you will find statistical tables and information as to school attendance.

I shall offer no specific dates for the school calendar as there are numerous contingencies that may modify any program that might be outlined at this time.

In my report of last year I discussed the condition of the schools with generally favorable comments, except as to the high school. In the light of the developments for the remainder of the year, that is, from February 15 to June 15, I shall offer no modification of my previous comments except to say that the schools in the village did not quite come up to my hopes, although they were far from being a failure. The high school showed promising improvement as anticipated.

Early in the spring I made special efforts to secure a competent teaching force for the present school year. Except for one instance the teachers thus employed entered upon their duties at the opening of schools in the fall. One teacher resigned only a few days before the opening of the schools and we were obliged to fill the position at short notice. Resignations under such conditions are extremely annoying and do not seem to me to show a proper degree of professional ethics.

When the schools commenced in September Miss Blodgett who has so efficiently conducted the school in District No. 10 returned, Mr. Moberg who had served one-half year as principal of the high school continued in service and Miss Holtham who had directed the music during the previous year again took up the same line of work. All the other teachers were new to our school system, two of them having had previous experience elsewhere and three being direct from their normal school training. Through the efforts of the State Department of Public Instruction and with the financial assistance of the Committee of Public Safety Mr. Moberg remained in town during the summer months assisting in the direction of the "war gardens" planted by the pupils of the schools. I believe that this work was well worth while and, if it can be continued this year, should show much greater returns.

There have been no changes in the teaching force during the year except for the resignation of Miss Ober on account of illness, her position being filled by Mrs. Toothaker for a period of seven weeks.

Generally speaking I believe that our schools have been conducted with a reasonable degree of success. The comments made last year with reference to the two rural schools are again applicable. The two schools at the Depot have fallen off in numbers and, while the teachers there have hardly accomplished results equal to those of last year, it must be remembered that the teachers previously employed there were of exceptional ability. A better home spirit, in a few instances, and more parent cooperation would go a long way towards improving the conditions in these schools, especially in the grammar room.

Both of the schools in the Town Hall building and the high school are certainly on a more substantial basis than a year ago. In all three of these schools much good work has been done and in altogether different spirit manifest.

The primary room is not in session, having been closed since the beginning of the Christmas recess on account of whooping-cough. It will probably be reopened February 25. All the other schools except the high were delayed in reopening on account of fuel shortage or severe weather. The two at the Depot and the Village grammar were one week late in starting, District No. 1 two weeks late and District No. 10 is still closed. For reasons which will be explained later some or all of these schools will be obliged to have a reduced number of weeks for the school year. This will in most cases be two weeks, although the Village primary and No. 10 may lose even more.

For the immediate future we are confronted by several problems that call for the most careful consideration, partially on the score of financial economy and partly because of the critical situation in the matter of teachers.

The last session of the legislature so modified the laws that the fiscal year is now made to close on August 31. The underlying idea is to have the school year and the fiscal year correspond and also to eliminate the difficulty that has existed through being obliged to borrow money in anticipation of the tax levies. Heretofore the fiscal year has ended February 15. Few towns have carried over a balance of more than enough to continue the schools until the time of the annual school meeting in March and, from that time until the end of the school year, we have been obliged to do business on money borrowed by the selectmen in anticipation of taxes. The new plan will eliminate this as the money appropriated at the March meeting will be for the year beginning September 1. The immediate difficulty lies in the fact that for this year the district is called upon to appropriate an amount sufficient to finish the present school year until June and then make an additional appropriation for the full year from September 1, 1918, to August 31, 1919. Except in-so-far as it may be possible to practice economy and curtail expense this will mean an addition of about 60 per cent to the regular appropriation.

I believe that we should go before the voters at the annual meeting with an attitude of entire frankness and with an evident desire to make every curtailment of expense possible without serious impairment of the efficiency of our schools.

With this view in mind I wish to offer certain recommendations which, under normal conditions, I should not deem advisable.

In the first place it seems to me best to curtail the school year, reducing it to 34 weeks, instead of the standard length of 36 weeks. (As above suggested, probably two of the schools will have to be even shorter than 34 weeks for the present year.)

For the next school year I believe that we should try and secure our musical instruction through the regular class-room teachers, thus eliminating the expense of a music supervisor.

The main economy, however, lies in a reorganization of the Village schools. I regret very much offering any comment looking towards the curtailment of the scope of the high school especially in view of the improved standard of work that has been accomplished there thus far this year. On the other hand we are confronted with a fact, not a theory—in fact we are confronted with two facts. One is the financial stringency already referred to and the other is the probable impossibility of securing a man as principal who will be able to conduct the work in agriculture.

The war situation is such that a large proportion of the men who would otherwise be available are engaged in military activities or other governmental work indirectly connected with our war machine. The few of real capacity who are "in sight" can command much larger salaries than the size of our school would warrant our paying. In fact it is largely due to personal reasons that the present principal of the school has continued with us thus far as he has had abundant opportunity to accept positions in a larger field with advanced salary. Several schools in the state have already been obliged to drop their agricultural work as their teachers have either been drafted in military service, have enlisted, or have entered more promising fields in school work, agricultural extension, farm management, or elsewhere. As these conditions indicate that it will be practically impossible to secure competent agricultural instruction in the high school next year I am recommending that this curriculum be temporarily suspended.

The indications are that at the opening of the fall term in September next a very large proportion of the high school pupils would be in the two lower classes. This being the case, while I regret any suggestion that would prevent any pupil from getting a full high school course in our home town, yet I believe that conditions warrant eliminating the two upper classes for the time being.

I shall also recommend that, in connection with the curricula for the two years that would be offered under this arrangement, Domestic Arts be a required subject for all girls and that Latin be eliminated as a freshman subject.

My further recommendation as to reorganization is that the two schools that have been for some years housed in the Town Hall building be transferred to the high school, that the seventh and eighth grades be combined with the two years of high school as a four-year junior and senior high school and that the six lower grades be accommodated in the present high school room, the four other grades occupying one of the "downstairs'' rooms. I have made a careful survey of the situation both as to the number of probable pupils and as to the housing capacity of the building and am satisfied that the plan is feasible. I am not contending that it is ideal, but we must make up our minds to do the best that we can under adverse conditions.

This plan as outlined will allow the conducting of the Village schools, including two years of high school work, with three teachers. Later developments may modify this plan somewhat, but I am satisfied that the general suggestion is sound and can be made productive of good results. In order, however, to carry it out with the degree of success that we should hope for we must recognize the fact that we must have strong teachers and that strong teachers, under present conditions can command larger salaries than we have been accustomed to pay. I believe that it is better for us to do well what we undertake than to undertake too much and either fail in efficiency or overbuden our tax-payers to the point of revolt.

Were conditions normal I should offer further suggestions along lines similar to those contained in my report of last year looking to improved hygienic conditions in some of our school buildings, especially the out-houses; to the screening of schoolrooms; to the improvement of the appearance of school buildings and grounds; to better equipment in the way of maps, reference books and supplementary reading; to the dental clinic; to the employment of a school nurse and to several other desirable activities that we must probably largely forego until a more favorable opportunity.

Following out my suggestions of last year a splendid beginning has been made in several schools in noon-hour supervision and in furnishing a warm lunch at the noon-hour during the winter months.

Thus far my suggestions and recommendations have dealt almost wholly with matters of administration.

In the field of supervision I have no new "wrinkles" to offer. In my report of last year I submitted my view-point as to our educational policy and the function of the school along certain specific lines in making such a policy effective. I wish to impress these fundamental principles as they appeal to me and I request your indulgence to the extent of quoting as follows:—

"Present-day conditions have materially modified the functions of the public school and many duties have been thrust upon it which formerly it was not required to assume. Whether this is a fortunate or an unfortunate condition depends largely upon the spirit in which these new duties are undertaken.

"In the first place there is a vastly broadened conception of the meaning of the term EDUCATION. The school-room and the text-book are less important factors than ever before since the early days of our country's history. We are attempting to fit the subject matter to the pupil—not the pupil to the subject matter. This involves a study of the child, and a teacher who approaches her work without a knowledge of the child mind, or at least without a proper conception of the part that the individuality and the mental processes of the pupil play in her educative endeavors, can hope for but indifferent success in the school of today.

"The second most important consideration is a recognition of the relation that must exist between teacher and text-book. The text-book must be the servant of the teacher rather than the teacher the slave of the text-book. Obviously under such conditions the teacher must have a thorough knowledge of her subject matter and use her text-book in much the same manner as the public speaker uses his notes—merely to suggest the line of thought rather than to specify the exact diction.

In the higher grades and in the secondary school much the same relationship must exist between pupil and text-book.

"A third dominant function of the teacher is that of directing the pupil along lines of self-endeavor—teaching him how and where to find his mental food rather than feeding him with sugar-coated, predigested intellectual pellets; in other words—in plain English—teaching the boy and girl habits of originality, self-respect and self-reliance.

"A fourth important feature to give consideration is that of the health of the school and, through the school, the health of the community. There is no agency that can accomplish more for the general physical welfare of the community than the proper directing of the children in habits of right living. A more direct aspect of this feature is the hygienic condition of school-room and outbuildings—especially in a rural community where modern facilities for proper ventilation of school-rooms and for healthful disposition of filth and foul odors are not available.

"Closely connected with the above is a fifth factor that is of utmost importance—that of the moral and social influence of the school. The teacher must recognize this feature of her work and by precept and practice aim to develop the highest ideals. And this can be best accomplished not by high-sounding 'preachments,' but by simple and concrete illustrations of the best practice in the everyday problems of the everyday school life."

Kindly accept my thanks for and appreciation of your kindly cooperation in the work that has been undertaken in the schools during the past year as well as for the very pleasant personal relations that have at all times existed.

Yours very truly,

O. H. TOOTHAKER,

Superintendent

Fitzwilliam, N. H., February 1, 1918.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

On account of the various uncertainties regarding the length of school year and other unforeseen problems that may arise it seems best to make no recommendations at this time as to exact dates of opening and closing schools for next year.

SCHOOL SAVINGS

The pupils of the public schools have continued their savings by means of school savings stamps and deposits have been made at the Keene National Bank. At the present the campaign for the "'thrift stamps" is displacing the former arrangement and will probably be continued through the year. A special effort is being made to bring about large results, although the plan will not call for the transfer of bank savings deposits to thrift stamp accounts. It will be rather an attempt to increase the effort of the pupils looking to economy and saving.

High school,	1,000 00
Repairs,	500 00
		$5,275 00
Total,		$7,575 00

To the voters of the Fitzwilliam School District:

In making up our budget for the following year we have made it up on the basis of the changes suggested by our superintendent, that is cutting the high school down to two years and putting the grade schools back in the high school building and doing away with one teacher.

At the same time we do not want to go on record at this time as unqualifiedly endorsing this radical change without a thorough investigation. Our position is this—we believe with Mr. Toothaker that if the grade schools can be properly housed in the high school building with little expense in making changes and without overcrowding or loss in efficiency it is probably the best thing to do in view of the fact that we must cut down our expenses, both in school and town affairs. We do, however, feel that we as a town are very prone to vote for a change without properly considering the effect of this change and to find afterwards we have made a mistake.

In view of this fact we shall make a most exhaustive study of the working out of this new plan with Mr. Toothaker and will be able to give the voters full details at the school meeting.

In the meantime we hope every voter will give this matter thoughtful consideration, so he will be able to vote intelligently on this important matter.

If no change is made in the schools; that is, if the high school is continued as a four year course and the grade schools are continued as they are, $1800.00 more must be added to the budget for running expenses.

Respectfully submitted,

C. L. WILLIAMS,
GEO. S. EMERSON,
FRANCIS R. PARKER,
School Board of Fitzwilliam.
